Quest. 13. Who have died this year?

Ans. THOMAS DAUGHADAY. He was born in Baltimore county, in the state of Maryland 1777, and departed this life in Union Town, Fayette County, Pennsylvania, October 12th, 1810. In the morning of his life, he was brought (through the instrumentality of the Methodist Preachers) to experience the knowledge of salvation, by the remission of sin. He became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Taylors Meeting House near Baltimore City: and was admitted on trial as a travelling preacher in May 1798. He travelled and preached, with approbation and usefulness, in Maryland, Virginia, and Pennsylvania until 1802, at which time he received a location, on account of affliction of body. But, notwithstanding he continued extremely debilitated, yet his mind not being tranquil, and the worth of souls lying near his heart; in 1805 he again united himself to the Itinerant connection, from which, he departed no more, till the wheels of life stood still.

Thomas Daughaday was a man of a slender constitution; but great meekness of spirit, gentleness of manners and goodness of heart.

He suffered much in the last year of his life, from a cough and pain in his breast; and frequently spit blood. Nevertheless, he still exerted the feeble remains of dying nature, in proclaiming salvation through Jesus Christ, to a lost and ruined world.

He bore his last illness with great patience, and resignation. He saw death approaching with rapid strides; but through the promises of the gospel, and the consolations of the spirit; he was enabled to meet the king of terrors without dismay. And even when death had nearly compleated his conquest over all in him that was mortal, his reason still maintained its empire, and the last words which he was heard to articulate was, "Glory! Glory!" And then like an expiring lamp, or the setting sun without a cloud, he fell a sleep. He has left a widow and two children, to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and tender father: And the name of Daughaday will long be dear to many in the Circuits where he travelled.

2. THOMAS L. BUDD. a native of New Mills, Burlington County, state of New-Jersey. He was born February 19, 1783, and about the year 1800 was converted to God, and attached himself to the Methodist Church. He was received as a travelling preacher at the Philadelphia Conference in 1803, and appointed to the Redstone Circuit. He travelled Berkeley in 1804, Clarksburg in 1805, Greenbrier in 1806; he was appointed to Fells-Point and Fells-Point Circuit in 1807, Montgomery in 1808, Burlington in 1809, and stationed in Philadelphia in 1810, where he ended his days in peace, July 10, in the 28th year of his age, and the seventh of his ministry.

He died of a pulmonary affection, a complaint to which he was constitutionally predisposed; it was sudden in its attack, and progressed rapidly to a fatal termination. Thomas L. Budd was a young man of good natural and improved abilities; he was both acceptable and useful as a preacher and deservedly esteemed in all the stations he filled ; he was a man of good moral character and pious in his life and conduct, he was open and free in his manners, a stranger to dissimulation, capable of warm attachments and friendship, and exceedingly candid and frank in his general character. In the first of his illness, his mind was much depressed occasioned by the doubts he entertained of his acceptance with God ; but it pleased the Lord that that state of mind should not long continue, for the cloud suddenly burst and his soul was filled with joy and peace in believing, and although he was frequently harassed with temptations afterwards ; yet at intervals he rejoiced in the God of his salvation and proclaimed he felt Jesus to be precious, and appealed to those that were present if they did not also experience the same consolation in him.

He was asked some few hours before his dissolution, whether he knew his end was approaching, and also, whether he felt ready to meet it ? he answered, he had no pre-sentiment that death was very near ; but that if it was the will of God, he had rather go at that time, unless he had the fullest assurance, that at a future period he should feel his mind in the same happy frame it then was. The day after his death, his remains were taken to New-Mills, accompanied by a number of his friends, and interred within four rods of the place of his birth. A sermon was preached on the occasion by one of his colleagues, to a large and deeply affected congregation, on these words of the celebrated apostle St. Paul, " I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day." 2 Tim. iv. 7, 8.

3. WILLIAM KEITH was born in the town of Easton, Massachusetts, September 15, 1775. By the account which he has left of himself, he had serious exercises of mind from the time he was eight years old ; but by the influence of bad example, he was kept under bondage to sin, until some time in the month of May 1794, in his eighteenth year, when in a love-feast he found the peace of God to his soul. He soon after joined the Methodist Church, and was faithful in the discharge of his duty as a private member. It was not long, however, before he felt his mind exercised about preaching the gospel of the Son of God. He felt that reluctance to the work, which is common to those who are sensible of its importance, and their own inadequacy to the task. After many severe exercises and sore conflicts, he in the year 1798 tremblingly entered the work of the ministry; and it was soon seen that he was in the order of God, by the visible fruits of his labour in the Lord. This year he was stationed in the Albany circuit. "Having to ride," says he, "three hundred miles in four weeks, and "preach forty-three times, and sometimes travel on "foot through storms and snows, I was so worn out, "that in the month of April 1799 I returned home un- "able to ride any more." According to his own account, after desisting from travelling, though he maintained the form, and supported an unspotted character as to his outward deportment, he insensibly lost the inward life and power of religion in a considerable degree. Some of the preachers, seeing his danger, reproving him in too harsh a manner, instead of reclaiming him, it tended to prejudice his mind against them, and to sink him into dejection, so that in the autumn of 1801, he withdrew from the connection.* While in this state he visited various denominations, by some of which he was solicited to join himself as a minister, but to this he could not feel free to consent. After about one year and an half, he saw it his duty to return to the people from whom he had withdrawn. On this occasion he says, "As soon as I consented to "bear the cross, and join the Methodists again, I felt "a return of the favour of God, and could truly say, "My Jesus is mine and I am his." He laboured as a local preacher about two years when he again entered the itinerant connection, in which he continued until his death. In the year 1806 and 1807 he was stationed in Newburgh circuit, and in 1808 in Montgomery, at which places, and indeed wherever he has been stationed, he was received by the people as a messenger of God ; for his ministerial labours were blessed to many. In 1809 he was stationed in New-York, where he ended his days upon earth, September 7, 1810, aged 33 years, 11 months, and 23 days. He wasted away by slow and almost imperceptible degrees, with the consumption ; but patience was made perfect in his sufferings. The writer of this memoir lived under the same roof with him for about two months of his last illness, and therefore had an opportunity of observing him attentively. For some time previous to his death, he was unable to articulate loud, so that he could converse but little. Though he frequently expressed his want of sensible consolation, and a desire for greater manifestations of God's joyful countenance, yet no murmuring word was heard to drop from his lips, nor any consciousness of condemnation. A pleasant smiling countenance visibly indicated the inward serenity and tranquility of his mind.

A few days before his happy spirit departed, he said, " The fear of death and hell is wholly taken away, and I have a hope of immortality." He also said, that his views of the plan of salvation were the same as they had been since he embraced the religion of Jesus Christ ; and that we might tell his friends that he died in the Lord.

One distinguished trait in the character of William Keith was humility. Perhaps no man ever possessed more real excellence, and at the same time had a less opinion of himself. Perhaps this was one cause of that dejection of mind which was sometimes visible, and which, no doubt, prevented him from enjoying himself as well as he otherwise might have done. Another peculiar excellence with which the great Head of the Church blessed him, was clearness of conception, readiness of utterance, and comprehensiveness in argument. It has often been remarked that he possessed the happy art of expressing much useful matter in a few well chosen words. Sound in doctrine, deep in experience, and uniform in practice, he was able to look a congregation in the face, while he denounced the terrors of the law to sinners, and administered the promises of the gospel to mourners and to believers. The unction of the Holy Spirit which anointed his word, more than compensated for his want of a classical education, which, though good in its place, can never supply the absence of an heart-felt experience of divine truth. The happy, and sometimes astonishing effects of his ministry, demonstrated that he was sent by Jesus Christ, to declare unto mankind the awful truths of heaven, and to beseech sinners to be reconciled to God. He had failings no doubt, but as the writer of this was unacquainted with them, he cannot tell what they were. But he is no more in this world. He is gone to reap the reward of those who continue faithful to death. May we emulate his virtues, and so prepare to join him in praising God and the Lamb for ever.

He left a widow and three children; and the people of New-York have shewn their love which they had for the dead, while living, by their benevolence to the widow and fatherless.

4. WILLIAM HUNT was born at East-Sudbury, Middlesex County, Massachusetts June 9, 1787. At an early period he manifested a mild and amiable temper of mind, united with a strong inclination to reading and close thinking. But from the unhappy circumstance of reading books, and hearing conversation tending to invalidate the Christian religion, he not only doubted the truth of, but entertained strong prejudices against the scriptures.

When about fifteen years old he first attended the preaching of the Methodists, where he first received those religious impressions which brought him to the knowledge of himself, and Jesus Christ his Saviour. Convinced of the depth, extent, and consequence of sin, with a penitential heart he approached to the Redeemer, and received the witness of pardon in his blood.

From the time of his conversion, he manifested an unusual attachment to the Holy Scriptures ; and notwithstanding his intense application to Academical studies, he was accustomed to read, collate, and commit to memory certain portions of the sacred writings daily.

He was licensed to preach in 1805 ; and admitted on trial as a travelling preacher in 1806 ; and was appointed to Orington circuit. In 1807 he was stationed on Conway circuit ; in 1808 he was appointed to Bridgwater, New-Hampshire, in which station he obtained the sanctifying grace of God, and made the happy instrument of this salvation to others ; and here the disorder of which he died, formed its first permanent seat in his feeble constitution. His next appointment was Marblehead, where he continued but a few months before his consumptive complaints became so deeply fixed, as to afford sufficient conviction that his dissolution was nigh. Unable longer to continue his ministerial labours, he left his station and retired to his parents at Penobscot, with whom he died.

As a christian, in the profession both of justifying and sanctifying grace, he was a pattern of devotion. As a scholar, few have excelled him in the branches of literature he pursued. As a minister, he was sound in doctrine, and well read in the Holy Scriptures. He possessed correct views of gospel order and discipline, and was in his life a comment upon them.

He possessed in a large measure, the grand principal of ministerial oratory, the power of the Holy Ghost.

His last illness was a continued scene of severe affliction, great patience and much divine consolation. He retained his senses to the last. With the deepest humility, modesty, and triumph, he said. "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith ; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of life."

He sat in his chair till a few moments before he died ; he then desired to be laid on the bed ; then he desired to be put on his knees, in which position he expired on the 17th day of June 1810, with all that tranquility and holy triumph which the consideration of a life devoted to God, a sense of the divine presence, and a prospect of an eternal weight of glory are calculated to inspire.

It is a circumstance worthy of observation, that so many of our brethren in the ministry have fallen into the arms of death in the morning of life, and in the midst of usefulness. The most promising flowers have been suddenly taken from earth; but we trust to be transplanted in a richer soil, and more favourable clime. While we behold with wonder, let us adore with trembling the government of Jehovah, whose footsteps are in the great deep, and his ways past finding out.

J. S.

N. B. It is not altogether on the testimony of others, that I have given to our dear brother Hunt the above character; I have been intimately acquainted with him, and can say with propriety, I have known but few, in whom so many christian and ministerial excellencies were united.

J. S.

5. GIDEON A. KNOWLTON, a native of Connecticut, born in East Hadden, who departed this life in Whites-Town, (N. Y.) the 15th of August 1810; aged 51 years.

G. A. Knowlton became an itinerant preacher in 1800, and was stationed on Cayuga circuit; in 1801 on Tioga; 1802 and 1803 Ulster; 1804 Albany; 1805 Saratoga; 1806 and 1807 Montgomery; 1808 and 1809 Western; and 1810 Mexico.

Immediately after his return from the Genesee Conference which was held in Lyons July 1810, he was seized with a violent fever, that continued to increase till it terminated in death. Through the course of his illness he manifested an entire resignation to God, and frequently expressed an enjoyment of his forgiving love. Whilst enduring the last agonies of dissolving nature he frequently exclaimed. "How sweet is pain when Christ is near." A few days before his death he called his wife and two daughters to his bed, and after having clasped each by the hand, he bid them all farewell. "You have often," said he, "looked and wished for my return home, I am now going to my eternal home; be faithful, and we shall meet again to part no more forever." In consequence of the violence of his fever, in the three last days before his exit, he was frequently delireous; however, the day before he died, he said to his physician in the most confident manner, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Having thus given satisfactory evidence of his confidence in God, he closed his eyes in death; and no doubt made his flight to the abodes of peace.

Our late brother Knowlton, we believe, was a deeply experienced christian; a plain, practical, and useful preacher. And such was his faithfulness in attending his appointments, that it became proverbial in stormy weather. "It is Knowlton's appointment, he will be there; we must attend." He is taken from a world of toil and pain to reap his great reward in heaven; for, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them."
